The Integrated Property Services Council (IPSC) Open Data Portal Privacy Statement

This privacy statement discloses the information gathering and dissemination practices for this website.

IP addresses are recorded to help diagnose hosting issues and to track a user's session to determine which parts of the site users are visiting. IP addresses are not linked to anything personally identifiable. This means that a user's session will be tracked, but the user will be anonymous.

While cookies are created on this site for purposes of statistical analysis, the site does not require the use of persistent cookies.

Forms on this site may request users to provide personal information for the purposes identified by the particular form. This information is collected for internal use only and is not shared.

This site may contain links to other sites, but cannot be held responsible for the privacy practices or the content of these sites.

Please remember to close your browser when ending your internet session.

The Integrated Property Services Council Open Data Portal is provided to you by Socrata Inc. The privacy practices of Socrata may differ from those held by the Integrated Property Services Council. Some information, such as your Internet Protocol (IP) address, browser type, and site activity is automatically collected by Socrata for geolocation, site administration, or metrics tracking purposes and may be stored in servers located in the United States and/or the European Union. When using our Open Data Portal, we encourage you to read the Socrata Privacy Policy in full before you provide any personal information.
